Nazis At Salerno Driven Back

Novorossisk Falls To Advancing Russ

By JAMES W. LONG
LONDON (CP)—Novorossisk, Black Sea naval base in the German bridgehead of the Caucasus, fell to the Russians today after a five-day battle between Soviet land, sea and air forces and more than four German divisions, while Red Army troops driving westward between Bryansk and Nezhin captured Novogord-Sversky, 80 miles from the White Russian border.

The capture of two important but widely-separated points on the far-flung Russian front was announced by Premier Stalin in separate orders of the day, broadcast by the Moscow radio and recorded by the Soviet monitor here.

To take Novogord-Sversky, the central front Soviet forces of Gen. Constantine Rokossovsky forced the Desna River and battered down the defences the Germans had prepared on the western bank.

Novogord-Sversky is about 95 miles southwest of Bryansk and about 90 miles northeast of Nezhin, which fell to the advancing Russian forces Wednesday.

In capturing Novorossisk, the Russians pushed the Germans into a 40-mile wide neck of land north of that port on the Taman Peninsula.

Russian troops in the northern Caucasus co-operated with units of the Black Sea fleet in the combined land and sea operation. The vital port was taken, by storm today after five days of fierce fighting, during which the Russians routed three German divisions, a Rumanian division and detachments of German marines, Marshal Stalin announced.

Nazi Defences Ripped Apart

Cholera, Plague Ravage Japanese In S.W. Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cholera and the plague are marching against the Japanese in the southwest Pacific.

Data compiled by the Netherlands Information Bureau here disclosed today that typhoid, malaria, dysentery and other epidemic diseases are waging guerrilla warfare against the empire-builders from Nippon.

Evidence of the serious difficulties encountered by health authorities in the Japanese-occupied areas is found, says the bureau, in recent Japanese-controlled news broadcasts in the Netherlands East Indies, French Indo-China and elsewhere.

A Domei (Japanese official news agency) report from Bandung, Java, for instance, tells of alarming outbreaks of plague in western Java, where Japanese military authorities have ordered evacuation of the stricken districts.

Not only bubonic plague (the black death of the Middle Ages) but the more deadly and more infectious pneumonic plague has been spreading. In one village a fourth of the population was reported to have died of pneumonic plague in the course of two weeks.

Netherlands experts on the East Indies situation attribute the new outbreaks to a breakdown of Java's public health service due to wholesale incarceration of Dutch and Indonesian health officers and physicians by the Japanese. A shortage of staple foods, especially rice, also is said to be weakening population's resistance.

Coffee Crop Suffers

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Dispatches from Sao Paulo today reported damage to coffee crops as a severe cold wave, accompanied by snow that reached a depth of more than a foot in some places, gripped that area.

The army newspaper Red Star said the Germans no longer held a continuous line.

Russian forces drove on Kiev from Nezhin, 73 miles to the northeast and on Zaporozhe from a line between Gulai Pole and Pokrovskoye, some 45 miles to the east.

A Soviet communique announced the capture of Nazhin, Gulai Pole and Pokrovskoye Wednesday.

Premier Stalin celebrated the fall of Nezhin in another order of the day, terming it "the most important centre of the Germans' defence on the road to Kiev."

Wednesday's fighting cost the Germans in all more than 6,000 dead and they surrendered more than 200 towns and villages as they fell back before the relentless Red Army sweep, the Russians said. There was no indication anywhere that the enemy would halt short of the Dnieper River.

Advance Toward Bend of Dnieper

Although the capture of Nezhin spotlighted Wednesday's Russian advance, the Soviet forces to the south were not idle. Driving toward the great bend in the Dnieper, Moscow said, they captured Gulai Pole and Pokrovskoye, both 90 miles from Zaporozhe, a Dnieper River city which also is an important point on the one railway line leading to Melitopol and the Crimea.

In the central sectors of the 600-mile active front the story was the same, with Red Army columns everywhere advancing. Fall of Romni, Poltava, Krasnograd and Lozovaya to the west of Kharkov appeared certain, with the consequent straightening of the Russian front in that area.

Novaya Vodolaya, southwest of Kharkov, and Kuibyshevo, 50 miles northwest of Mariupol, were other prizes of the southern advance. Southeast of Priukli, Red Army troops stormed across the Sula River to capture the village of Sencha and point still another threat to Kiev and the Dnieper River.

Royal Victoria To Be Opened Soon

Early opening of the Royal Victoria Theatre as a moving picture house to relieve the pressure of war entertainment, was announced today by Robert W. Mayhew, M.P., following receipt of confirming advices from Navy Minister Macdonald.

Renovation and necessary installations to the theatre will cost $25,000.

Wednesday, Mr. Mayhew received a letter from Navy Minister Macdonald stating he had been advised by the Department of National War Services, the W.P.T.B. and controller of construction that agreement had been reached for the issuance of the necessary permits and licences on application of Famous Players Canadian Corporation Ltd.

Teachers' Federation Hits Judge's Report

VANCOUVER (CP)—A protest from the B.C. Teachers' Federation against the suggested dismissal of Dr. J. M. Thomas as principal of Mount View High School in Saanich was forwarded to the Saanich School Board today, following a special executive meeting of the federation in Vancouver Wednesday.

Judge J. O. Wilson of Ashcroft, after a lengthy inquiry into the high school's affairs, found corporal punishment administered by Dr. Thomas to some students was excessive and due to lack of judgment on the principal's part.

He recommended Dr. Thomas be dismissed, but expressed hope another teaching position would be found for him in Saanich or elsewhere.

"Such recommendations are not in accordance with the facts and findings of the commissioner as expressed in the rest of his report," says the resolution of the Teachers' Federation.

Stiff Battle With Heavy Losses In Italy Expected, Says Stimson

WASHINGTON (AP)—The position of Allied troops in the battle of Salerno is serious, U.S. Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today, but "our commanders are confident."

Describing the struggle south of Naples as one of the most critical of the Mediterranean campaign, Stimson said reinforcements and additional supplies were reaching the Allied forces, now reported to have consolidated their beachhead and to be making progress.

"There has never been any thought of evacuation," the secretary said emphatically.

So far, he said, the forces on both sides have been about evenly matched numerically. The Germans have the advantage of interior communication lines, he added, enabling them to bring up reinforcements and supplies more quickly than the Allies. The Germans also have probably a preponderance of tanks and heavy equipment, he said.

On the other hand, he said, the British and U.S. forces under Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark have definite air superiority, handicapped somewhat because the planes have to fly a considerable distance, and a distinct asset in their ability to employ naval gunfire from Allied warships against enemy positions in the hills around the beachhead.

The heavy opposition encountered in the Salerno area was expected, Stimson continued, and constituted a risk undertaken deliberately because the prospects of success warranted it.

Farther to the south, he said, the British and Canadian troops under Gen. Montgomery have seized virtually all of southern Italy and are advancing northward at an extraordinary rate which may shortly bring them into position to influence the battle at Salerno.

"We have always expected a hard fight for the northern portion of Italy, and we are likely to get it," said Stimson.

He described the situation like this: "Allied losses at Salerno have been heavy, but so have the enemy's. Under the impetus of the initial landings, British and American troops pushed several miles inland against stiff opposition along a beach head about 25 miles long. After reeling back from the first shock, the Germans regrouped their forces and counterattacked, and for a time some of the Allied forces were pushed back. Latest reports, however, indicate that this has been stopped."

Actual elements of the two armies have not yet met.

NAZIS ALARMED
STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Germans have switched their victory tune in the battle of Salerno to one of concern over the possibility that Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's British-Canadian 8th Army would reach the battle area in time to help Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark's hard-pressed United States and British forces.

Newsriters Make Contact Between 2 Allied Armies

By RELMAN MORIN
WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY (AP)—War correspondents have established the first contact between the fronts of Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark's 5th Army and Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's 8th Army.

The contact was made by eight British and one U.S. correspondent who drove across 100 miles of no man's land from the 8th Army sector to this front in the Salerno area.

They were en route for two days and nights far ahead of 8th Army patrols without encountering German forces. However, they received reports of German armored vehicles ahead of them at one point.

Italians they met assisted them in giving them directions and information about the positions of German patrols.

Actual elements of the two armies have not yet met.

NAZIS ALARMED
STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Germans have switched their victory tune in the battle of Salerno to one of concern over the possibility that Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's British-Canadian 8th Army would reach the battle area in time to help Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark's hard-pressed United States and British forces.

Berlin dispatches to the Swedish press quoted a military commentator as saying the situation at Salerno would change radically if Gen. Clark could hold his bridgehead until Gen. Montgomery's arrival.

U.S. Congressman, 5 Others Indicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. James M. Curley (Dem. Mass.), and five others were indicted by a federal grand jury here today on 21 counts charging violation of the mail fraud statute in connection with operation of an alleged government war contract brokerage racket.

Curley, long prominent in Democratic politics, is a former governor of Massachusetts and former mayor of Boston. He is a member of the Democratic National Committee.

The indictment alleges that between June 20, 1941, and Feb. 20, 1942, the defendants "falsely and fraudulently" represented themselves as being experienced and competent consulting engineers with special facilities and qualifications for obtaining war contracts from the government, but that they had little or no experience in this field and "could not and did not produce any of the services for which they were paid."

Allied 5th Army Turns Tide With Hot Counterblow

By WES GALLAGHER
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—British and U.S. soldiers of the 5th Army have lashed out at the Germans, driving them back from the Salerno bridgehead, and have now clinched their foothold in Italy, Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark announced today.

He launched his offensive this morning on the eighth day of the biggest battle yet fought in the Mediterranean, and threw the German armored forces back between the junction of the rivers Sele and Calore north of Altavilla in the central sector of the 27-mile front.

Simultaneously, Gen. Clark, in an order of the day to his troops, declared: "Our bridgehead is secure. Additional troops are landing, every day and we are here to stay. Not one foot of ground will be given up."

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's 8th Army, racing northward toward Sapri, but 39 miles from the southern anchor of the 5th Army's front, was mentioned by Gen.

Will Drive On to Rome, Says Clark

The text of Gen. Clark's order of the day:

"As your commander, I want to congratulate every officer and enlisted man in the 5th Army on the accomplishment of their mission in landing on the west coast of Italy. All the more splendid is your achievement when it is realized that it was accomplished against determined German resistance at the beaches. Every foot of our advance has been contested.

"We have arrived at our initial objective—our beachhead is secure. Additional troops are landing every day and we are here to stay. Not one foot of ground will be given up."

"Gen. Montgomery's battle-proven 8th British Army—our partners in the task of clearing the German forces out of Italy—is advancing rapidly from the south and in a matter of hours its presence will be felt by the enemy. Side by side with the 8th Army, the 5th Army will advance to occupy Naples, Rome and other cities to the north and to free Italy from German domination."

"I am highly gratified by the efficient manner in which the British and American troops have worked side by side. Their performance has justified the confidence placed in them by the people of the United Nations. They know that we shall drive on relentlessly until our job is done."

Rain of Allied Bombs Shakes Earth

The entire Allied air force joined the struggle for the second straight day and hurled hundreds of tons of explosives on the German positions with earth-shaking barrages.

With unchallengeable control of the sea, the Allies exploited the advantage to the utmost by moving their mobile naval batteries up close to the blackened, smoking beaches and hurling tons of screaming steel into the teeth of the Germans. The British battleships Valiant and Warspite with their 15-inch guns joined in the bombardment.

CHEERED BY GENERAL
Gen. Clark toured the fiery arena, cheering begrimed Tommies and Doughboys with his presence at the advanced positions where he told the troops every soldier must fight to the last and that there must be no withdrawals.

Casualties in this seven-day battle have been the heaviest of any in the Mediterranean fighting.

At least four German divisions had been identified in the action against the 27-mile front, and more were being brought up. It was probable that as many as five had been employed in the all-out effort to smash the Allied grip.

The magnitude and fierceness of the battle undoubtedly was draining German strength even more rapidly than Marshal Erwin Rommel's effort in Africa.

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's 8th Army, racing dramatically up the Italian west coast, with the Italian toe behind it, passed through the ancient fishing village of Salerno.

Clark, who said: "In a matter of hours its presence will be felt by the enemy."

A military spokesman said the Germans were in flight in the Salerno sector for the first time since the original landings eight days ago and that this morning's assault was "the first serious offensive thrust we have been able to make—since getting on the beaches."

Reinforcements pouring into the bridgehead during the past 48 hours made the drive possible, he said.

A spokesman in London warned, however, that the struggle has a long way to go and would not be ended even by the arrival of the 8th Army, which includes the Canadian 1st Division, or at least units of it, which is racing northward toward Sapri, 39 airline miles away.

At last reports the 8th Army was considerably more than 50 road miles from Salerno, but Gen. Clark may have had later information when he said its presence would be felt in a matter of hours.

The text of Gen. Clark's order of the day:

"I desire the contents of this letter to be communicated to all ranks in your command."

The biggest beachhead battle since Dunkerque raged back and forth under the thunder of 15-inch guns from British battleships and the fire of lesser warships. Reinforcements poured into the area. The Allied air forces threw all their might into the struggle.

"There was still no confirmation of reports earlier this week from both London and Berlin that Canadian units are engaged in the Salerno fighting. London had indicated the Canadian 1st Army Tank Brigade is there, and Berlin spoke of its troops facing Canadian troops, tanks and armored vehicles."

The 5th Army, composed equally of British and Americans, now is the largest Allied force engaged in a single battle since the Mediterranean war started, and it was supported again Wednesday by more than 2,000 sorties flown by the powerful Northwestern African Air Force and separate raids by Middle East heavy bombers.

Gen. Montgomery's dust-stained warriors were meeting no opposition in the dash that had carried them more than 15 miles in the last 24 hours.

UNITED DRIVE AWAITED
Although Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters' communique said the 5th Army had strengthened its hold on its bridgehead and was being reinforced and supplied, it was not considered likely the critical phase would pass until it had been joined by the 8th Army to form a great unified force.

Meanwhile, the communique had nothing further to report of the British force which landed at Taranto and sliced off the Italian heel with the capture of Brindisi and Bari in a flanking drive on the east side of the peninsula. These troops were believed to be fanning out through the lower backbone of the Apennines.

Italian Warships At Alexandria

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—Two battleships, four cruisers and four destroyers of the surrendered Italian fleet arrived here today from Malta.

The battleships were the Italia, formerly the Littorio, and the Vittorio Veneto. The cruisers were the Egeo di Savoia, the Raimondo Montecuccoli, the Luigi Cadorna and the Emanuele Filiberto Duca d'Aosta.

More units are expected here shortly.

Berlin, North France Heavily Blasted
Tire Plant Hit; Nazis Over London Suburbs

By GLADWIN HILL
LONDON (CP)—United States heavy bombers, following up an inaugural dusk raid on Hitler's Europe and probably the R.A.F.'s biggest night assault on the continent, bomber naval installations at Nantes in France today in their second foray in two days.

An official announcement of the raid on Nantes, big French industrial centre at the mouth of the river Loire, said the Flying Fortresses were escorted by fighters.

In the mammoth operation Wednesday night heavy and medium bombers plastered Nazi airfields and aircraft plants in France, in their first after-dusk assault, while R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. planes hit Berlin and stabbed at one of Hitler's important rubber factories at Montlucon, only 43 miles from Vichy.

It was the first attack on Berlin since the pre-dawn hours of Sept. 4 and presumably was carried out by the R.A.F.'s swift Mosquito bombers which pummeled the German capital between the saturation attacks.

Other R.A.F. bombers struck at additional targets in northwest Germany, the Air Ministry announced.

Montlucon, 43 miles northwest of Vichy, was the principal target of the night-flying formations which concentrated on a factory supplying much needed tires for Hitler's war machine.

R.C.A.F. headquarters announced that bombers of the Canadian bomber group took part in the raids, losing one bomber. R.A.F. losses were seven bombers. One Canadian fighter is missing from intruder attacks on French airfields and transport targets.

The Vichy radio said the town of Chartres also was attacked, but the British announcement made no mention of this.

Wednesday night's raid, first since the Sept. 6 attack on Munich, followed by a few hours the first after-dusk assault by an American force which raided the Paris area. Here the Hispania-Suiza and Caudron-Renault aircraft plants and a ball-bearing works were the main targets.

LONDON SUBURBS HIT

At the same time German air raiders subjected suburban London to one of its severest bombings in months.

The U.S. raid on Paris marked the first time that Fortress, Liberators and Marauders had joined in the same operation in the European war theatre and the first time they had gone out and come home after dusk. Brig-Gen. Frederick L. Anderson, commander of the U.S. 8th air force bomber command, pronounced the experiment a success and presaging the possibility that they would soon team up with the R.A.F. in bombing Europe by night.

Although clouds made it difficult to see the results of the bombing at Montlucon, the communiqué said first reports indicated that the attack was effective.

The burst of widespread activity in the past 24 hours ended a lull in the extensive Allied air activities against western Europe. The rubber factory at Montlucon, situated 43 miles northwest of Vichy, is one of the two largest tire plants in France. It received raw materials from Germany.

RAILWAY JUNCTION

The city is a railroad junction on the line connecting northwest France with the seaport of Marseilles and another line joining the manufacturing centre of Lyons with Bordeaux. In addition to the tire factory it has large steel works making tanks and guns and chemical and glass factories.

Axis radio reports indicated that the American bombers delivered a real blasting to the Paris area Wednesday evening. A Vichy broadcast recorded by the Associated Press said "over 400 yards of the Avenue de Versailles are a mass of ruins."

A Berlin broadcast, claiming that seven of the American bombers were shot down, said the attackers knocked out the electric power supply in several districts of the city. It admitted "considerable damage" and said casualties were "believed to be very large."

Germany Wednesday lost 20 planes, while the Allies listed as missing six heavy bombers and three fighters.

Some casualties were caused in the Greater London area by the German overnight raids, but the only bomb which fell in the city proper dropped in a football field which now is used as a community garden. Actually the number of planes which participated in the Nazi assault was comparatively small and heavy gunfire kept them away from the heart of London.

Postwar Position
Of Municipalities
Precarious--Scanlon

PORT ALBERT, B.C. (CP)—Alderman C. E. Scanlon, of Kamloops in his presidential address to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention, today warned that the postwar position of the municipalities was "indefinite and precarious" because of the lack of concrete proposals from the federal or provincial governments.

"As matters stand, our only resort is to increase taxation on real estate, which even now is at its zenith. It is doubtful if, in some cases, it may even be able to take care of all the deferred maintenance work, to say nothing of its inequity," the president said.

Alderman Scanlon said the voluminous report of the B.C. Post-war Rehabilitation Council stimulated the public mind to the point of great expectations but failed to "reveal anything in the matter of concrete recommendations."

NO UTILITIES DECISION

Referring to the municipal case for superannuation of temporary employees, Mr. Scanlon noted it had resulted in a negative decision. He also regretted no decision had yet been made public on the municipalities' case presented to the Public Utilities Commission.

He was gratified at the federal increase in the old age pension, called for more aid for blind pensioners, and said the committee on municipal insurance was still seeking legislation granting powers for setting up mutual municipal insurance plans.

"As we anticipated, the insurance companies, realizing a definite attempt was being made to obtain insurance at a reasonable rate, have reduced their premiums, apparently in an attempt to forestall our endeavor to obtain municipal insurance legislation," he charged.

The report reminded him of the story of Lucy Gray, who walked many a mile "but never reached the town."

Island Casualties

Two Vancouver Island men were listed among overseas casualties today.

Sgt. James Henry Evans, R.C.A.F., whose wife resides at Courtenay, is reported missing following air operations over enemy territory.

Pte. Joseph Edmond Pombert, whose father, Eugene Pombert, lives at Crofton, was wounded in the Sicilian campaign.

Japs in 2 Raids
On U.S. Positions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Japanese planes, in the first raid on U.S. positions in the Solomons in two months, inflicted minor damage in two attacks, the U.S. navy reported today.

Both raids were carried out during the night of Sept. 13-14, when a group of enemy planes hit at the Lunga Point airfield on Guadalcanal, and a lone Japanese bomber attempted to attack the nearby Russell Islands.

Minor damage was caused by bombs dropped at Lunga Point, site of Henderson airfield, while on Russell Island, 52 miles away, no damage resulted.

Japs Report Loss
Of Liner Yamato

LONDON (CP)—A Japanese communiqué, broadcast by the Tokyo radio and recorded here by the Associated Press, said today the Japanese passenger liner Yamato Maru, carrying 1,025 passengers and crew, was sunk by a submarine which in turn was destroyed by Japanese warships Sept. 13, between Japan and Formosa.

The communiqué said that 1,064 persons were rescued from the liner by Japanese vessels in the vicinity of the attack.

(The U.S. Office of War Information said the Japanese Domei agency, in a broadcast reporting the same incident, described the ship as the 9,657-ton Nippon Yusen liner Yamato Maru, and said it was torpedoed by an Allied submarine at 1:30 a.m. Sept. 13, in the eastern China Sea.)

(The Domei report said the Yamato Maru was built in Italy in 1915, and was purchased by the N.Y.K. Line in 1928.)

Pravda Complains
No 2nd Front Yet

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda, Communist Party newspaper, insisted today that a "real second front" had not yet been opened by Russia's western Allies in Europe.

The newspaper counted 212 German divisions on the Soviet front and said none had been withdrawn to meet the invasion of Italy. On the contrary, Pravda declared, some German troops have been moved to the eastern front during the summer from western Europe.

(Pravda's report did not agree with recent reports from Stockholm that German forces were being shifted from the eastern front.)

The newspaper criticized Gen. Wladyslaw Anders, former commander of Polish forces in Russia, for his recent statement that the Germans had withdrawn 50 divisions from the Russian front.

Mrs. D. L. MacDonnell of Salvage Corps suggests if smaller contributions, such as papers and fats, are taken to the Salvage office, 1218 Government Street, or to the Cloverdale Depot, much unnecessary driving will be eliminated. Some drivers are urgently needed for the trucks which pick up heavier materials and metals, she said. Those who would like to help are asked to phone E 3413.

How "KIWI Over India" grew from A Shining Example

CHAPTER FIVE
BOMBAY... Gateway to India! British officers returning from England on leave grew to be most enthusiastic about the brilliant, smart appearance of their boots and leather equipment after they had been polished with KIWI. On every trip these men would bring supplies of KIWI for themselves and often for their comrades as well.

First one, then another, then a whole regiment imported private supplies of KIWI until Army canteens realized that a profitable trade was passing them by. So the demand for KIWI grew in India until the Indians themselves insisted on KIWI too—until to-day when KIWI is probably the most popular shoe polish throughout India.

So KIWI sales grow—not only throughout Canada but in 33 different countries besides. Stores and canteens everywhere sell KIWI—the polish whose quality has been proved all over the world.

To Fight Inflation

CHUNGKING (CP) — China plans to buy $200,000,000 (U.S.) worth of gold and bring it to this country to combat inflation.

Chang Ping-chun, counsellor of the executive yuan, said that actual carriage of the gold would not have to await reopening of the Burma Road. The gold would be bought with part of the $500,000,000 loan granted China by the U.S. in 1942.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

One of the finest services Hitler could render the Allies is his revival of the fallen and dishonored Fascist regime under the control—or so the Nazis say—of its old master, Mussolini.

The United Nations had carried out their aim of smashing Fascism, exposing Fascist rule to the world for exactly what it was—a dictatorship of gangsters who not only waged cowardly war on small and helpless countries but made themselves rich by plundering their own people.

The vast majority of Italians, while heartbroken over the straits to which their country has been reduced by Mussolini's wickedness and stupidity, nevertheless have been rejoicing that they finally have been rid of that nasty old man.

RUMOR OF DEATH

Now, along comes the arch-gangster of them all and sets up a little puppet government in the name of Fascism, announcing that Mussolini himself is the Quisling of this revival—a statement which certainly requires proof. The whereabouts of the ex-dictator is a great mystery, and it's even rumored he's dead.

Anyway, dead or alive, the Duce's usefulness is about the same. This puppet "government" will drag out its brief existence to clinch the argument for the overthrow of Fascism and Nazi-ism and the establishment of democracies in their stead.

Why is Hitler thus exhibiting Fascism in its nakedness and so taking the chance of weakening his own dictatorship? There are several reasons, all of them understandable. In the first place he is, of course, playing for time. And so is trying to fool the world into the idea that Fascism really isn't dead.

IMPRESSES BALKANS

The All Highest is particularly anxious to convey this impression to the Balkans to prevent further defection among his satellites, whose allegiance to the Axis has been due in considerable measure to Italian influence. He also wants to reassure his home front that all is still well in the Axis camp.

He is gambling that he may create hesitation in the enemy camp, which may enable him to discover some fresh ray of hope.

Time is Hitler's ally right now. Already the autumn rains have begun in Russia, and this may give his desperate armies a respite from the disastrous hammering they are getting from the Red forces. Every passing day lessens the danger of an Allied invasion of western Europe, because of weather conditions. Each hour he can hang on enables him to repair broken fences.

Looking at the matter from that light, Hitler's scheme is a smart one.

Novorossisk Captured

ALTHOUGH THE ARMIES OF THE Soviet Union have made such rapid progress during the last two weeks, taking one key enemy point after another, today's announcement from Moscow of the capture of Novorossisk has an importance and significance all its own. This is—or was—the vital German bridgehead on the Black Sea which the Nazi high command established in last year's drive into the Caucasus. The new development will oblige that part of the Wehrmacht which had clung to the port with such tenaciousness to vacate the whole of the Kuban area and find refuge across the Kerch Strait, an undertaking fraught with not a few difficulties.

It is obvious that the general Russian advance along the Sea of Azov has for its prime objective the release of the Crimean Peninsula. But so long as enemy forces remained in the strategic port of Novorossisk, an element of danger remained—both because it gave the Germans too much liberty in the Black Sea and because it could constitute a base from which the Nazi high command might stage another counterattack later on, with the oil of the Caucasus the natural goal. While this latter probability had lost much of its potency, as the southern part of the long battle line from the Smolensk area in the north to west of Mariupol in the south has continued to crack under accelerated Russian pressure, it was a factor which could not be ignored.

Simultaneously with the capture of Novorossisk, moreover, has come the warning from Moscow to the people of Bulgaria. Although the Sofia government still maintains "friendly" relations with the Soviet Union, it was told this morning that its assistance to Hitler in various ways places it virtually in the position of a military enemy of Russia. If this means anything at all, therefore, it means that Marshal Stalin may have very definite plans under consideration for greater Russian use of the Black Sea—dependent, to some extent, perhaps, upon the future behaviour of the men in control in Sofia.

Hero Of Moehne and Eder

WHEN WING COMMANDER GUY P. Gibson, V.C., D.S.O., D.F.C., heard he had been chosen to pilot the plane which carried Prime Minister Churchill to the epochal Quebec conference, he merely said to his young wife: "I'm off somewhere and I don't know when I'll be back." The perfect spouse asked no questions; but the events which have unfolded in the meantime have disclosed to her that her gallant husband's memorable trans-Atlantic mission was the beginning of another adventure destined to bring him to the gateway of the vast Pacific. So it is that Victorians today are extending the warmest of greetings to the man who is not only the most decorated officer of the Bomber Command of the Royal Air Force, but an airman who has won more than a bright footnote in history.

Our readers will recall that Wing Commander Gibson led 19 huge Lancasters in their attack of the Moehne and Eder dams in the Prussian uplands east of the Rhine. This was a carefully-planned attack on what could almost be called a source of THE source of much of Germany's industrial might and all the war economy involved. Not only was this exploit acclaimed as a great technical achievement in itself: the Secretary of State for Air, Sir Archibald Sinclair, speaking at a meeting to celebrate Norway's Independence Day in London on the morning of the announcement, said: "I have got news—great news—for you today; the bomber command—the javelin in our armory—struck last night heavy blows of a new kind at the sources of German war power." British reconnaissance the same day brought photographs disclosing "terrible destruction" in the valleys of the Eder and the Ruhr, where the dams were blasted by R.A.F. mines, and revealed that the waters of the Eder had swept the valley bare—flooding the airfield at Fritzlar and sweeping through farms and villages beyond the great industrial city of Kassel. Likewise the breaching of the Moehne dam produced something in the nature of a tidal wave which flooded towns after town. All this happened during the wretched hours of last May 17.

Perhaps nobody but the Wing Commander himself could adequately describe the meticulous training which had preceded this devastating and unique undertaking in the history of aerial bombing. But eight of the 19 Lancasters did not return to their base. They were the necessary sacrifice for one of the most daring and profitable exploits of the war against Hitler's Reich. And what the big four-motored bombers did that night was worth the loss of a division; they dealt a blow from which German industry in the vital Ruhr Valley has not recovered. Small wonder, then, that Victorians are happy to do honor to the officer who prepared for and led the raid.

No Change In P.E.I.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS OF THE GENERAL elections in the province of Prince Edward Island occasioned no surprise. Neither the provincial nor the national leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation could be accused of expecting Canada's third party to make any serious inroads into traditional political allegiances in this part of the Dominion. The fact that all nine of the C.C.F. candidates failed to attract sufficient votes to save their deposits, nevertheless, is not easy to explain. Nor will national Progressive Conservative leader John Bracken attempt to read any special significance into a count that will enable his party to occupy one-third of the seats in the next Legislature. Premier Jones, after four months as head of the government, will probably welcome the addition to an opposition that had boasted only three members since the election in May, 1939, adding one seat by a majority of a single vote in a bye-election in 1st King's division on Feb. 8, 1940.

Since the beginning of the century, Prince Edward Island has had 11 Parliaments, and Liberal governments have held office in seven of them. It is interesting to note, moreover, that until 1935—when the party captured all of the 30 seats—its voting strength in the Legislature had not been less than 21; that was after the general election of 1900. In other words, unless the final count shall change the standing, the next Parliament will find the government forces with the lowest numerical strength in 43 years. But Premier Jones is not likely to be dissatisfied with a majority of two to one over the Progressive Conservative opposition; nor will the absence of C.C.F. members unduly disturb his political peace of mind. He will have the satisfaction which derives from the knowledge that the electorate has endorsed his elevation to the Premiership—which occurred last May, when his predecessor became Chief Justice of the province.

Keep Thrift Front Sound

SOME FACTS ABOUT CANADA'S BORROWINGS during and after the first Great War should be noted by those who imagine that the obvious improvement in the military position of the United Nations will remove some of the urgency of loans and savings. The flotation of 1917 for $398,000,000, for example, was followed in November, 1918, by a loan of $660,000,000, only 10 days before the armistice. Yet in November, 1919, it was found necessary to borrow a further $678,000,000, the largest loan of the war, to lay the foundation for peace.

It is pointed out that there is a real possibility the experience of 1919 will be repeated after victory is won. If anything, our job of military and economic demobilization is greater than before. We have more men in uniform, more men and women in war factories, more and bigger factories at work on munitions. This means that as soon as war production slackens, business and personal tax revenues will drop with it, and the government will probably be forced to rely more heavily on borrowing to finance the transition. Only after that job has been achieved will it be time to reconsider our wartime savings commitments. These facts should be borne in mind by the Canadian people as they examine their financial resources and potential earnings in anticipation of the Fifth Victory Loan next month.

Two To Go

WHEN GENERAL EISENHOWER WAS seeking some code expression for the command to attack—something which every Canadian and American would recognize instinctively, but which would mean little to others—he decided happily upon the phrase with which every baseball game is started: "Play ball!" Before this was known to the public, Benito Mussolini had disappeared mysteriously from the international scene. And spontaneously, all over this continent, men and women found ready-made another expression borrowed from the popular pastime: "One down, two to go." Now the "one down" has become a fact. Not merely pompous, loud-mouthed, yellow Mussolini is down, but the nation he betrayed has collapsed as a belligerent—has thrown in the sponge and surrendered unconditionally.

One down makes everybody happy. But—two to go! The upstart who has been tucked away at the bottom of the batting order, where the pitcher usually is, although Mussolini and his reluctant Italy have done no pitching since little Greece forced Benito to call in a relief hurler. The men now coming up are at the top of the batting order. The Germans and the Japanese are tough. They are tough because they love this game of war, because they have been long and well trained in it, and not least because they realize that when they are whipped they are not going to get off as easily as the Italians will. By all means let us rejoice at the victory over Mussolini and the Italians. But the Nazis and the Japs will require a lot of beating. In other words, now we have given ourselves three rousing cheers, let us get on with the job. Salerno tells us that that job is tough, too.

Notes

The sub campaign is failing so badly the Germans haven't even the heart to lie about it.

The astonishing thing about smart men is how silly they can be when added by partisan prejudice.

The leader must watch where the crowd is going and then get ahead of it. He actually makes a profession of being led where others wish to go.

Bruce Hutchison

VITAL DOCUMENT

ONE OF THE MOST important social documents in the recent history of Canada, was recently contained in Maclean's magazine. It is a blueprint of a C.C.F. society, written by its distinguished and able leader, Mr. Coldwell. Though I happened to write the questions which Mr. Coldwell answered so frankly, I have not attempted so far to comment on the answers. I wanted to think them over.

Having thought them over, I have come to some conclusions much too complicated to be placed in the space of this column. To answer Mr. Coldwell you need at least as much space as he took and probably more, because his thoughts are sharper, and he also knows how to leap over large and impetuous gulfs of economics and politics with the grace of a gazelle.

Mr. Coldwell is a friend of mine. I have admired for many years the sterling qualities of his nature, the rugged honesty and the desire to help the ordinary man. But I have always suspected that Mr. Coldwell is not the man that many of the C.C.F. think him. He is not the Marxian Socialist that the left wing would like to see in his place. He is not a revolutionist, as Mr. Winch proclaims himself to be. He is essentially an evolutionist, a gradualist, who wants no violence, wants to hurt no one much and hopes to achieve his Co-operative Commonwealth with a minimum of trouble even if, as he says frankly, it takes 25 years.

However, on reading over again for the ninth time Mr. Coldwell's statement in Maclean's I am convinced that what he is trying to do is impossible.

It is not impossible to achieve complete socialism. It is not impossible to give the government control of everything. Assuming you have the right government and an obedient public, it is not impossible that the socialized state would increase our wealth and, if that is the sort of state we want, our happiness. But it is impossible that Mr. Coldwell should do it in the way he sets out in Maclean's.

THE CHLOROFORM

MR. COLDWELL PROPOSES a gradual transition from a privately-owned to a publicly-owned economy and he depends on the continuance and prosperity of private industry during the time the government is preparing to take it over. He is saying, in fact, to private industry: "You be a good dog, and lie still, and breathe normally and be happy while I get ready to chloroform you to death."

It is in the nature of dogs and men not to lie still under such conditions. It is in the nature of private capital not to invest, not to expand industry under such conditions. In a state where the government (as Mr. Coldwell says frankly) would fix all profits, determine all industrial expansion and threaten at any moment to take over an industry at its own price or simply extinguish it because it was not "socially desirable"—in such a state private investors will run for cover. Private industry will go headlong into the tailspin of a depression.

The Marxian socialist has a ready answer for that—the government will take over all industry, and this the Marxian considers inevitable and desirable anyway. Mr. Coldwell's dilemma lies in the fact that he intends to have the best of two worlds—the state gradually expanding at its convenience, gradually eliminating private industry, slowly chloroforming the dog, and private industry at the same time investing merrily, expanding, flourishing and providing employment, like a criminal singing on the way to the gallows.

THIS WILL NOT happen. The moment Mr. Coldwell is elected, private investment in Canada will dry up. No corporation will risk new commitments. No investor will put his money into a private enterprise, for no one will know how long any private enterprise will remain outside the government's control, or whether it will be permitted to exist at all.

This is not to say that the state cannot expand its functions without ruining private industry and driving capital into hiding. Of course the state can and must and will expand its functions enormously after the war. Few men are opposed to that, and they will not count. The point is that private industry will continue, and should increase in prosperity, if it is assured of the limits of the government's expansion, if a line is drawn, if the private investor is told that in a certain field he can remain safe, free from the threat of confiscation.

Actually, the central business of politics in this and every country is to draw that line, unless we are to accept the Marxian theory and draw no line, but blot out private industry altogether. As there seems to be no prospect of this at the moment in America, we must face the problem of drawing the line.

That, it seems to me, is where Mr. Coldwell falls down between two stools in a magnificent effort to straddle them. He refuses to draw a line, refuses to see the necessity of drawing it, and expects both stools to survive, expects private industry to operate contentedly while the state is moving ahead on no fixed line whatever and frankly towards the final extinction of the private owner.

There are other aspects of his blueprint which we can consider later, but this is the central flaw in it and a great part of the C.C.F., the real Marxian socialists, will readily agree. But they don't see Mr. Coldwell's political problem, which is to appeal not only to the socialists, but to the bulk of Canadians, who are not socialists but are fed up with things as they are.

Hamburg Never Liked Nazis

SYDNEY A. CLARK in the Christian Science Monitor

Hamburg, heavily battered by the R.A.F. more than 100 times and the home of many anti-Nazi, might become a seat of internal revolt before the war ends. Food riots broke out there a year ago, and it may be recalled that the great city on the Elbe, chief port of Germany, raised the red flag in November, 1918, before the Armistice was signed. Its waterfront was the chief anvil on which rebellion was forged. Jan Valtin, who should know as well as anybody, referred to Hamburg as "the reddest city in Germany."

In the spring of 1937, four years after Hitler's catastrophe rise to power, I visited Hamburg and stayed in a small hostelry never patronized by American tourists. In Berlin, buxom Hermann Goering had just married buxom Emmy Sonnemann, who came of a humble Hamburg family, and the Elbe port was tremendously interested in the affair. A portion of the city, socially speaking, was very bitter, too, feeling that the vast showy wedding in the capital's Lutheran cathedral was not at all consonant with the high pretensions of the Nazis to a program of social reforms.

Hamburg was the only city where I personally heard bitter talk against the Nazi regime in 1937, but I certainly heard it there. Even a drudge of a Zim-mernmaedchen, waking me and serving me breakfast before dawn one morning when I had to make an early start, unburdened her soul to me, a total stranger. "It's disgusting," she spluttered with reckless heat, "abscheulich, the way these greedy rulers rob us in every way to get money for their pompous shows in Berlin."

In the summer of 1941, I met a young German in Lima, capital of Peru, and spent the better part of a day with him. He finally grew confidential and said in a low voice, "I am known as a good Nazi here. I do everything they tell me, though I still take a big risk. I haven't yet given up going to my dentist, who is a Jew. I suppose I may lose my job on account of that."

"Do you mean that you don't accept the Nazi doctrines of race?" I queried.

He looked about to make sure that no one else was within earshot. "You see," he explained, "I'm from Hamburg. Very few of us in Hamburg take that hocus-pocus seriously. We think it's cruel and unfair just as you do. Hamburg has suffered too much to bother about racial distinctions."

Lower Standing for Nazi Pilots

Allied fighters in the future may not have to face a highly-selected group of combat pilots and officers such as Britons and Russians met in the early part of the war.

A report in a Swiss medical review, "Praxis," just received, reveals that the psychological testing service of the German armed forces was considerably curtailed after the first Russian winter.

This cut was made first in the Luftwaffe and then in the army.

Calling attention to this report in a communication to the scientific journal, "Science," Dr. H. L. Ansbacher, Brown University psychologist, attributes the reduction in psychological testing to shortage of psychologists and the elaborate, impractical nature of the German tests.

In place of the group tests preferred by Allied psychologists because they make possible the testing of large numbers in a relatively short time, the German military psychologists developed a clinical type of examination. By this method, one man would be studied by a group of usually six psychologists for two whole days to see what he would do in many realistic test situations.

"While the method was good," Dr. Ansbacher comments, "it was very time-consuming and required a relatively large staff."

Who said "NO CAKE?" You can make wartime cakes that are just about as fine as cakes as you ever baked—in spite of some difficulties over ingredients like shortening or sugar or eggs. It's all a matter of the right recipes, carefully followed, with good ingredients.

The Question of Butter

You have your choice of three ways of reducing the amount of butter you use in cake-baking—or of eliminating butter entirely, if you wish.

1. Wherever the recipe calls for butter, use half butter and half some other kind of shortening.
2. Use some other shortening entirely in place of the butter called for in the recipe. This can be done with all Swans Down Cake Flour recipes.
3. Make some of the many wonderful Swans Down Cakes which call for no shortening of any kind! Here's one you can try.

Champion Sponge Cake

1 1/2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
1 1/4 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
4 egg yolks
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup salt
4 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup boiling water
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Add lemon rind to egg yolks and beat until thick and light. Add 1/2 cup sugar gradually, beating constantly. Beat egg whites until light and foamy throughout; add remaining 1/4 cup of sugar very gradually and continue beating until stiff enough to hold up in definite, satiny peaks. Add vanilla. Add boiling water to egg yolks, stirring well; then add flour all at once and beat with spoon until smooth. Fold quickly into egg whites. Turn into ungreased 9-inch tube pan and bake in slow oven (325°F.) 1 hour, or until done. Invert pan 1 hour, or until cold.

What About the Sweetener?

The three usual sweeteners for cakes—sugar, corn syrup or honey—are all a bit of a problem these days. But there are Swans Down recipes that call for very little sugar—others that use part sugar and part syrup or honey—others that use all syrup or honey. Here's one fine example—a light, tempting layer cake, using only 4 tablespoonsfuls of shortening and only one egg.

One-Egg Cake

2 cups Swans Down Cake Flour
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
4 tablespoons butter or other shortening
1 egg, unbeaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sugar*

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually and cream together well. Add egg and beat very thoroughly. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in two greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375°F.) 25 minutes.

*If substituting corn syrup or honey, use 1 cup and decrease milk to 1/2 cup. Or use 1/2 cup of syrup and 1/2 cup of sugar; decrease milk to 1/2 cup and 1 tablespoon.

There are several wartime ways you can serve this cake. Spread jam between the layers. Or ice with your favorite icing if you have the sugar to spare. Or there's a sugarless recipe on the Baker's Chocolate wrapper for a luscious chocolate frosting.

For Better Cakes

Made from soft wheat grown in one particular part of Canada, Swans Down is a special cake flour that makes better baking easy. The choicest part of the wheat is selected, milled by Swans Down "Controlled Milling", then sifted again and again through silk, until 27 times as fine as ordinary flour.

Some Answers to Wartime Cake Problems

Eggs a Bit Scarce?

Many women think that it takes a lot of eggs to make a light, tender cake. But not if you use Swans Down Cake Flour. One of the special features of Swans Down is that it responds so wonderfully in quite simple recipes. You can make splendid Swans Down Cakes with only one or two eggs—even with no eggs. Try this eggless chocolate cake. Its lightness and tenderness will amaze you. But, of course, no ordinary flour could give such results.

Eggless Chocolate Cake

2 squares Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate
1 1/4 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
1 cup milk
3/4 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 cup vanilla
Combine chocolate and milk in top of double boiler and cook over rapidly boiling water 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Blend with rotary egg beater; cool. Sift flour once, measure, add soda, salt and sugar and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add flour mixture, vanilla, and chocolate mixture, and stir until all flour is dampened. Then beat vigorously 1 minute. Bake in two greased and lightly floured 8-inch pans in moderate oven (375°F.) 20 minutes.

Not all the Empire's sea-power speaks from the mouths of firing guns.

Great, silent schools of North Pacific salmon are supplying another form of power... the power of nutritious food.

Chemists have shown that the oil in canned salmon is as rich in vitamin "D" as high-quality cod-liver oil.

That is why millions of cases are moving to Britain and Empire fighting fronts... a fact worth remembering in times of peace.

Suspends License Of Woman Driver

Lillian Doris Wyllie, driver of a Cadboro Bay bus which Aug. 26 was in collision with a car at Hillside and Blackwood, Wednesday was found guilty of dangerous driving. She was fined $30 and her license was suspended for one month.

Conflicting evidence as to the speed of the bus, and the car, driven by Edward George Williams, was presented by six witnesses, but in passing judgment, Magistrate H. C. Hall noted the point of impact agreed to by the two drivers showed the car had traveled 32 feet into the intersection, while the bus was eight feet in the intersection.

Estimates of the speed of the bus varied from 25 to 40 miles per hour. Prosecution witnesses said the car was going between 15 and 20 miles per hour, while defence witnesses swore the speed of the car was between 25 and 30 miles per hour.

Roy Manzer appeared for the accused, C. L. Harrison conducted the prosecution. Mrs. Williams and her three-year and six-month-old children were injured in the crash.

Masses of beautiful flowers, personal gifts and greetings from friends in all parts of British Columbia greeted the venerable celebrant, who also cordially welcomed many friends who attended her birthday party, including Rev. J. L. W. McLean, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, of which Mrs. McMicking has been a member for many years. Tea was served from a table arranged with pink carnations and mauve asters, with lighted pink tapers. Mrs. Robert McKay presided and Mrs. Walter McMicking's daughter, Dorothy, assisted the hostess in serving. Mrs. McMicking's son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. McMicking, were present. Among the many friends who called were Mrs. A. E. Christie, regent of Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., of which Mrs. R. B. P.E.I. Voters Return Liberals
To Power; C.C.F. Heavily Beaten

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)— Another four years of Liberal administration was in the books for Prince Edward Island today after a general election that whittled down the government's lopsided majority, but left it with at least a two-to-one majority over the Progressive Conservative opposition.

In winning their third straight contest in Wednesday's balloting the Liberal forces swept 20 of the Legislature's 30 seats on the basis of unofficial compilations, while another eight went to the Progressive Conservatives. The opposition was leading in the two seats that had not been conceded in Wednesday night's incoming count.

NO C.C.F. MEMBERS

Third party attempts to gain representation in the House were thrust back by the electorate, which relegated every one of nine C.C.F. and three Independent Liberal candidates to the foot of their respective polls. All lost their deposits.

Premier J. Walter Jones, who led a group of 23 Liberals in the House at dissolution, was returned personally with all his cabinet except one, Progressive Conservative Leader W. J. P.
MacMillan, a former premier,
also was re-elected personally with his party's representation at least double over the four seats it held at dissolution. Three seats were vacant then.

On the basis of the incomplete count, the Progressive Conservatives gained seven seats from the Liberals, while the government

In the election four years ago the Liberals took over 27 of the house seats, while the Conservaforces at that time were under Premier Thane Campbell, who went to the Chief Justiceship of P.E.I. last May in a move that brought the 65-year-old Jones to the premiership.

MATHESON LOSES

Only member of his cabinet to be rejected at the polls Wednesday was Hon. A. W. Matheson, minister without portfolio, who trailed R. R. Bell by 49 votes in the complete unofficial tabulation for the 2nd Queen's Councilor election. In that riding the Liberals also lost the seat that had been held by George C. Kitson, who was headed by a Progressive Conservative.

In each riding one councillor and one assemblyman were elected. All 30, however, have similar functions in the unicameral house, though the voting qualifications in each case are different.

Chamber of Commerce
Elections Monday

Seven leading citizens of 14 elected recently in a primary election will take office when final elections for directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are held Monday, Norman Foster, secretary, said Wednesday.

Since two of the present board have left their positions, seven rather than five members will be chosen. The five elected candidates with the greatest number of votes will take office for two-year terms, and the next two in line will serve for a year to complete the unexpired terms of the two who have left office.

P. W. Bell, M. F. Hunter and W. A. Penderay are directors who still have a year of their term to service. Here are the candidates for the seven directorships: A. A.
Baker, George Beck, W. G.
Heaney, H. J. Hodgins, W. E. Hol-

HELPFUL HOME HINTS

BY THE CAREFUL TWINS

PAINT TO PROTECT

Nowadays, property protection is more important than ever... we must take the best possible care of what we own. Paint does more than provide color... Paint will prevent decay and unnecessary repairs. To guide us when we Paint to Protect, the Careful Twins pass along these suggestions:

WHAT TYPE OF PAINT SHOULD YOU USE? Get the right paint for the job in the first rule for successful painting.
House paint is an all-purpose covering for inside and out. Enamel is used where a hard, high gloss finish is desired. It is easy to clean and wears well, but should not be used on outside surfaces. Floor paint has a particularly hard surface, so that it can be cleaned and will stand a lot of traffic. All-purpose varnish is heat-proof, waterproof and hard wearing; it is used to protect floors, linoleums and woodwork. Stain is a penetrating oil for tinting natural wood finishes. Kalsomine and Casein paint are very inexpensive and are used to tint walls where durability is not a factor.

PREPARATION OF THE SURFACE. In order that the paint will take a firm hold, the surface must be smooth, clean, free from grease or wax, and dry. If painted surface is in good condition all it requires is a light sandpapering and dusting. When the paint has deteriorated badly, a wire brush may be used to take off blisters and scales. Commercial removers or varnishes are fine for taking off old paint and varnish. If it is a new surface, it may need a special treatment before paint is applied, such as the application of a "size" or transparent coating which seals porous surfaces. Knots and pitch streaks in new wood must be shellacked. Nail holes and cracks are filled with plastic wood after the priming coat is applied.

APPLICATION OF PAINT. Apply with smooth, even strokes. Do not attempt to take in too much territory at a time. Finish each section before you go on... don't try to go over half-dry paint. Draw the wide side of the brush—never the edge—across the surface to remove surplus.
Use up-and-down as well as across strokes and finish with long sweeping strokes.

WHEN PAINTING A WOODEN CHAIR,
turn it upside down, do the bottom surfaces first. This way, you won't miss any spots.

TO CATCH DRIPS, glue a paper plate to the bottom of your paint can. This will provide a place to rest the brush.

TO KEEP YOUR HANDS CLEAN, wear a pair of old gloves. If you do get some paint on your arms or face, wipe it off with a rag dampened in turpentine.

CHOICE AND CARE OF BRUSHES. Buy a good brush, the right size for the job.
Before using, run your hand back and forth sharply over the bristles. Clean the brush immediately after using... squeeze out as much paint as possible and then clean in turpentine. Store the dry brush laid flat.

TO RECLAIM PAINT - HARDENED BRUSHES. Soak in a neutral paint remover till soft. Then flick out as much softened paint as possible and rinse in thinner. Wash with warm water and lots of suds. Rinse, shake out excess water, comb bristles straight, wrap in paper and put away to dry.

USE GOOD PAINT. It goes further, is easier to apply and lasts longer than cheap paint.

- DON'TS FOR BEGINNERS—
1. Don't forget to read the label on the paint can. Follow instructions to the letter.
  2. Don't do outside work in wet weather —immediately after a storm or heavy dew or before wood has dried out.
  3. Don't paint in cold weather, as low temperature thickens paint films and makes them more liable to cracking.
  4. Don't apply paint to a very hot surface
—blisters may result.
  5. Don't try to cover the surface all at once with one heavy coat, several thin coats are better.
  6. Don't paint over undercoats not thoroughly dry.
  7. Don't putty up holes or imperfections until after the priming coat has been applied.

Mystery Shrouds
Death of Soldier

Mystery still shrouds circumstances surrounding the death of Pte. John Moon, who was found dead on the road just outside Otter Point camp Saturday night.

A coroner's jury Wednesday afternoon returned a verdict of accidental death.

Pte. Moon, an Indian from Comox, B.C., was last seen alive about 9:30 p.m. by Cpl. Paul Wasyk, and his body was found 200 yards west of the main gate at the military camp at about 9:50 by Andrew Dick of Muir Creek.

Dr. J. H. Moore, who performed the autopsy, testified it would appear that the man was lying on the road when the wheel of some heavy vehicle "probably heavier than an ordinary passenger car," crushed his skull instantly.

Dr. E. C. Hart, the coroner, told the jury that while there was no doubt that Pte. Moon was struck by some heavy vehicle, it was not necessarily operated by a hit-and-run driver. The man operating the vehicle might not have seen the soldier at all, and it was also possible that, from the nature of the death blow, no blood would be on the vehicle.

Members of the jury were Richard M. Phillips (foreman),
John Chambers, John Howard,
Owen Fletcher, Godfrey H. Simons, and Frank Gilbert.

By PETE SALLAWAY

PAYING his usual one-day visit to Victoria races, George Irvine, prominent Vancouver owner, was among the crowd at Willows track Tuesday. Irvine planned to run his string here this season, but decided to ship to Bay Meadows instead. Irvine will send six thoroughbreds to the California meeting including such speed burners as Overdrive, Palmera T, Hi Briar, Sad Story, Busy Fingers and Can Jones.

Irvine expects big things of the gelding Can Jones. A four-year-old, the pony has shown a lot of promise and the softball drink figures he will pick up at the southern racing strip. Jockey Billy Woodhouse, under contract to Irvine, will make the trip south. Irvine had a good summer racing his stable on Ontario tracks.

Murty Dunn, one of those racing followers who loves to come up with statistics, button-holed us at the Willows the other day with some interesting figures on the one-two betting. Taking 36 of the 42 days of racing at Hastings Park this summer, the number three and four horses were the winning combination in the quinnella four times. The combinations of one and four, two and five, four and seven and five and eight came up three times. But here's the strangest feature. The combination of one and three never got the call once during the 36 days despite the fact they are all horses and figure to have the best chance on a half-mile track. Burn up some more midnight oil Murty and give us additional statistics before the season closes.

Doc Darbyshire, well-known local trainer, put over Winnamucca in Tuesday's handicap, but didn't have a dime bet on his pony. "I unloaded all the mazzuna on Marion Somers Monday and didn't have any of that stuff to get down today," Darbyshire remarked without his usual smile. It will be recalled that Marion Somers stumbled going into the far turn in the fourth race Monday when running strong and lost all chance. But don't think for a minute that Darbyshire was not pleased over Winnamucca's victory. "Guess the horse was worth claiming for $800. And a lot of guys tried to tell me the horse had bad feet."

Jack Patterson, sports editor of the Vancouver Sun, spent Monday and Tuesday at the track. The

Victoria Navy Softballers In Double Win

SASKATOON (CP)—Victoria H.M.C.S. Navy softball team, British Columbia champions, scored two victories here Wednesday in exhibition games. The coast sailors defeated an H.M.C.S. Unicorn Club 4 to 0 in the afternoon game and outscored the Knights of Columbus, northern Saskatchewan champions, 3 to 1 in the nightcap.

Seven members of the visiting team are former Saskatoon senior softball league players. Short scores follow:

REGINA (CP)—Bus Haugh of Vancouver pitched Regina air force to an 8 to 3 victory over Winnipeg Airports here Wednesday to deadlock the two-of-three western Canada senior men's softball semifinal series. Winnipeg won the first game 3 to 1.

The teams played a 2 to 2 nine-inning tie in the evening, forcing another game today to decide a winner to meet Lethbridge in the finals.

Bellingham Wins But Loses Protest

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bellingham Bells defeated Vancouver Wallace 6 to 3 here Wednesday night in the sixth game of the four-of-seven final series in the Vancouver Baseball League, but the game was thrown out following protest by the Vancouver team.

Wallaces protested against Bells using pitcher Bob Hendrichson, now stationed at Fort Laughton. The replay was set for Friday. Wallace lead the series three games to two.

popular mainland scribe expects his army call any day. We have heard he is slated for a job in the public relations department.

If the crowds that have patronized the races the first three days hold up, a new attendance and betting record for the local meeting is a lead pipe cinch. It is a long time since we have seen the grandstand jammed as it was Monday and Tuesday. The big crowds have usually been confined to Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Seattle Two Games Up

Portland Winner

SEATTLE (AP)—The underdogs are up to their old tricks in the Coast League Shaughnessy playoffs. With three games written into the books, the pennant-winning Los Angeles Angels and the runner-up San Francisco Seals are still seeking their first victories.

Third-place Seattle rang up its second straight over the Angels here in a twilight contest Wednesday, 4 to 1, after fourth-place Portland came from behind to defeat San Francisco 7 to 6 at Portland in their first playoff game.

Seattle and Los Angeles squads were en route south today to finish their series, starting Saturday. The Seals and Beavers play a second game at Portland today before traveling to San Francisco.

Seattle scored twice in the first inning on three hits off Jodie Phipps, Angel mound ace, and led all the way as Carl Fischer continually pitched his way out of trouble. He squeezed out of his tightest hole in the ninth after the Angels filled the bases on a single and two walks with only one out.

Portland scored five runs in the final two innings to overtake San Francisco in the first game of their four-out-of-seven series. The Beavers went into the ninth trailing 6 to 4, to win it with a three-hit rally. Ted Gullie, who earlier had hit a homer, lashed out a single to drive in the winning run. Earl Cook got credit for the victory, although he pitched only the final inning.

Ad Liska of Portland and Bob Joyce of San Francisco were nominated as mound opponents for today.

MAJOR LEAGUES

New York Yankees are riding the crest of an eight-game winning streak, matching their longest previous victory string of the season, but the team is just coasting.

Ignoring the fact that the campaign has two weeks to run and they haven't clinched the pennant yet, the Yankees simply are taking their day to day business in stride and concentrating on the world series.

However, Charley Keller hit his 27th home run with two aboard in the first inning, Arthur Beauregard (Bud) Metheny hit his second homer in two days and Joe Gordon notched his 14th of the season while Hank Borowy pitched six-hit ball to easily overpower Philadelphia Athletics 7 to 3. Borowy had a shutout till the eighth, when he made the mistake of grooving a pitch to rookie George Staller, who socked it for a three-run homer.

St. Louis, although idle, moved within three games of clinching

In the only senior circuit activity of the day the Phillies divided a doubleheader with New York Giants. Jack Kraus pitched four-hit ball as the Phils won the first 1 to 0 on Ray Hamrick's triple, but the Giants bagged the second game 6 to 3. The double bill started at 11 a.m., less than 10 hours after the completion of the Phils-Giants game of the previous night, and drew only 903 paying customers.

Washington strengthened its hold on second place in the American League by shutting out Boston Red Sox 5 to 0 on John Niggeling's three-hit hurling while Cleveland dropped another decision to St. Louis Browns 4 to 2 through Al Barilla's three-run homer in the seventh.

Detroit downed Chicago White Sox 8 to 2 with Rube Gentry pitching a six-hitter.

Eastern Grid Opening

Many New Players

The reconstituted Ontario Rugby Football Union, balancing war tribulations against the twist of circumstances which gave it stature as the savior of eastern Canada's major fall sport, opens its 61st consecutive season Saturday with games in Toronto, Ottawa and Hamilton.

Its playing talent diluted in some cases and almost drained dry in others, Ontario's oldest football compact will have six teams—R.C.A.F., Hurricanes, Toronto Beavers, Toronto Indians, Toronto Navy, Ottawa and Hamilton.

For its first home showing (against Beavers), Ottawa will field a sprinkling of former Rough Riders, service talent and some highly promising youngsters. Arnie McWatters, formerly of Sarnia Imperials and Rough Riders, will handle the club for quarterback post. George Fraser, 35-year-old placement-kicking middle wing who led E.R.F.U. scorers while playing with F.U. in 1941, will hold a line post. Another former Rider, Eric Chipper, may be unable to start because of torn ligaments.

Beaches, a disappointment last year, may be revitalized by the acquisition of valuable Annis Stukas from Toronto Indians. Stukas, who scored all 15 of his club's points when Indians handed Toronto R.C.A.F. # Repeaters Thrill Big Race Crowd

Hi Rythm and Band o' Gold Flash Speed

Wednesday was repeater day at the Willows track with Hi Rythm and Band o' Gold registering their second straight victories to the delight of a half-holiday crowd estimated at 4,000. Favorites and second choices continued to have their way with the result prices were not big, while the daily double of $7.60 was the lowest of the meeting. The one-two in the seventh also paid off light at $8.60.

Third choice in the betting, although the punters spread their money pretty evenly all over the field of five, Miss R. Bain's seven-year-old mare, Hi Rythm, ran right back to her form of Saturday when she copped the opening day handicap, to waltz off with the Mt. Tolmie Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth. With Johnny Hruschak aboard, Hi Rythm was always up with the leaders, moved on top entering the stretch and won going away by five lengths over Herb Fullerton's Sunny Park, with the second choice Orangeworth third. The favorite, Patage, was fifth and last, his worst performance this season.

Joe Brazeau, better known to the racing folk as "Calgary Red," had his chestnut filly, Band o' Gold, really flying to take the fourth heat over six furlongs and 30 yards. Jockey Billy Slocum hustled the local bangtail to the top from the gate dropped back to second as the field entered the final drive, then let her run to win by half a length over St. Green with Lady Pagan third.

The favored Lady Giovanna was never able to get up from fourth.

TWO FOR FISHERS
The Fisher family of Vancouver put over a nice double Wednesday, with "Toughie" Fisher's old reliable, Dr. Pook, copping the winner's share of the pot in the second race over six furlongs and 30 yards, and H. J. Fisher's Treasure Band winning the third event over the same distance. They are father and son.

First race went to the odds-on favorite, Commendable, with Frisco Boy winning the fifth to return $11.35 for a nose wager, the longest price of the afternoon and Gordellus copping the seventh and final race in a photo finish with Naperton.

Jockeys Haller and Hruschak each put over two winners with Kelly, Bovine and Slocum sharing the other winning mounts.

Betting continued to show a good increase over the corresponding day last season, and to date it is pretty safe to say the wagering has been up close to 40 per cent.

Burrards in Final

VANCOUVER (CP)—Burrards defeated Army 18 to 12 Wednesday night, winning the right to meet New Westminster Salmonbellies in the finals of the Inter-city Boxla League playoffs.

The first game of the finals, expected to be a four-of-seven game series, will be played at New Westminster Saturday.

Phillies Establish Attendance Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies set an all-time Phillies' attendance record of 466,876 fans this season at Shibe Park, the club announced Wednesday. This was approximately double the Phillies' 1942 attendance.

Minus high-salaried stars and helped financially by the elimination of a spring training trip, the Phillies are expected to show a sizeable profit for the new owners, William D. Cox and associates, who purchased the club last winter from the National League after Gerald Nugent stepped out of the picture.

U.S. Army Champs

EDMONTON (CP)—U.S. Army Yanks won best-of-five provincial senior championship series Wednesday night with an 8 to 3 victory over Calgary Navy. Yanks won first two games by identical scores of 7 to 6 and the southern club, made up of stars from the Foothills League took the seven-inning third game, 5 to 4.

Bivins Decisions Bettina for 13th Straight Victory

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jimmy Bivins stretched his string of ring victories to 12 Wednesday and handed Cpl. Mello Bettina his first defeat as a heavyweight by punching his way to a 10-round decision before about 18,000 in Cleveland's Lakefront Stadium. Bettina weighed 185½ and had a three-pound edge.

The loss was Bettina's first since he dropped his light heavyweight title to Anton Christoforidis in January, 1941, and started campaigning among the heavies.

The Cleveland slowed Bettina up considerably in the third when a right brought blood cascading from his right eye.

Bivins continued the heavy firing in the seventh and drew blood from Bettina's nose. The soldier was visibly tired.

The Associated Press score sheet awarded Bivins nine of the 10 rounds. Official attendance was 14,900 and gross receipts $52,850.

New York Yankees Series Favorites

ST. LOUIS (CP)—Betting commissioner James J. Carroll Wednesday made New York Yankees top-heavy favorites in the 1943 world series, quoting 13 to 20 odds on the American League club and 13 to 10 on St. Louis Cardinals.

He listed the same odds on the opening game with Spud Chandler pitching against Mort Cooper.

The odds mean the better must put up $20 to collect $13 if New York wins, while he would collect $13 for $10 if his money was on the Cardinals.

Gibson Ready to Raid Japanese Sees No Glamour in Dambusting

To Wing Cmdr. Guy P. Gibson, V.C., D.S.O. and Bar, D.F.C. and Bar, No. 1 dambuster of the R.A.F. and hero of 174 operational flights, air fighting and bombing is just a job, with no glamour. He attributes his successes not to his skill as a pilot but 95 per cent to luck, and says he is the luckiest man in the world.

Therefore on all his flights he carries a Saint Christopher, and avoids anything to do with 13. He does not believe in gremlins, however, describing them as a phenomenon well-known to pilots.

Gibson is the last pilot of the class he trained with. The others, he said seriously, were just as good and many were better pilots than he, but he had Lady Luck on his side.

He said, in an interview on his arrival at a local air port for a two-day stay in Victoria where he will address trainees and aircrew and meet the public, that he would be glad to get a crack at the Japanese. He feels that opportunity will not come until after the war in Europe is over.

Just turned 25, of medium stature, but chunky, the pilot told reporters of his exploits as a pilot since the first day of war. He sat carelessly on a straight chair with his legs around the back and chatted about his experiences but eagerly spoke of aircraft and parties, girls and life after the war.

Details of his experiences which he modestly pushed aside were filled in by air force officers who accompanied him on his cross-Canada tour.

After leading a low-level raid in daylight on Milan in November, 1942, for which he received the D.S.O., and making a similar attack on Stuttgart in February, 1943, for which he received a bar to his D.S.O., the young air hero was made leader of a special squadron detailed to break the Mohne and Eder dams in the Nazi industrial Ruhr valley.

TRAIN 2 MONTHS

The crews, which contained men from almost every part of the Empire, including many Canadians, trained with Lancasters for two months in special formation flying and bombing.

Shortly after midnight last May 17, 19 Lancasters, with Gibson as pilot of the leading plane, took off from their British bases and headed for the Mohne Dam.

Three of the giant ships, loaded with special mines to break the big dam, failed to reach the target. Eight others did not get back.

Gibson personally took the initial run on the dam, a wall of stone and concrete 800 yards wide, 150 feet high, and 150 feet thick at the base. Despite the high speed of the aircraft and heavy anti-aircraft fire, Gibson brought his plane down to within 50 feet of the water.

He had to plant the mines within an area of five yards. If he missed, the mines would strike the dam and the explosion would destroy his aircraft before he could get away.

TERRIFICALLY GOOD

Dropping his eggs within the allotted area in a run which other officers described as "terrifically good," Gibson circled for an hour about the dam, drawing the fire of the ack-ack guns and directing other Lancasters on the target.

Several loads of mines were dropped before the dam gave way. Then a 100-yard section in the centre collapsed, and Gibson, in the dim light, had the satisfaction of seeing a lake 12 miles long, containing 134,000,000 tons of water, break loose and begin its journey of destruction on Nazi war plants.

That job done, Gibson proceeded to Eder, the mine load of his own "Lank" gone, and directed other pilots in breaking this smaller dam. The first load of mines, perfectly planted by an Australian pilot, tore a great hole in the dam. The escaping water did the rest.

Gibson told two "pay-off" stories of the raid with quiet humor lighting his blue eyes.

The previous night the R.A.F. had blitzkrieged Duisburg, igniting numerous fires.

The water released by his dam-breaking expedition rushed down the valley to engulf the city and extinguish the fires. He said he took a beating from the other bombers when he returned.

Breaking of the Eder dam flooded an underground barracks killing many Nazi pilots.

Gibson joined the ranks of the R.A.F. in 1935, and in 1936, at 17, won his wings and commission.

Since the first day of war he has been flying continuously, first with a Hampton squadron, with which he smashed invasion barges along the French coast in July, 1940, and won his first decoration, a D.F.C.

BAGS 7 NAZIS

A few months later he transferred to the Fighter Command, in which he served for a year as a Bomber pilot, being shot down once and knocking down four Jerries in three nights, winning a bar to his D.F.C., and raising his bag to seven.

Returning to the Bomber Command, he flew with Manchesters, until he got a "Lank," which in his opinion is the best all-round bombing machine in existence.

He has flown a Flying Fortress too, and describes it as the best daylight bomber.

Married in 1940, Gibson left his wife at a British aircraft factory during his tour of Canada. He said the life of a pilot is a selfish life and indicated that after the war, if there is no work for him to do with the air force, he would gladly go into civilian life.

He has never done anything but fly, but said he had connections which would give him a job after the war. He did not indicate what work this would be.

Arriving by special plane from Vancouver, Gibson was greeted by Group Capt. G. R. McGregor, O.B.E., D.F.C., O.C. of the R.C.A.F. station.

This afternoon he addressed air force personnel on his first-hand knowledge of operational flying. Friday he will meet Premier John Hart, Acting-Mayor Archie Willis, who will present him with a silver medallion, attend a civic luncheon at the Empress Hotel, inspect air cadets before the Parliament Buildings at 3, and proceed to Government House.

A civic reception will be held at the Empress at 6.30. He will leave by T.C.A. Saturday afternoon for Montreal.

Girl Delinquency in Victoria Draws Comment in Report

In Victoria many girls in their middle teens make a practice of waiting about military and other encampments and picking up sailors, soldiers and airmen, "with unfortunate results," according to a report on B.C. juvenile courts and juvenile delinquency prepared for the attorney-general's department by Magistrate H. S. Wood of Vancouver.

The juvenile court judge in Victoria told him this fact, Magistrate Wood reported. Victoria, in this respect, is different from all other places in the province where juvenile court judges reported to Magistrate Wood they had little trouble with girls, most of their problems being with boys. Vernon, however, has the same situation, to some extent, as Victoria.

Magistrate Wood said that on the whole he had been unable to find any general increase in juvenile delinquency.

"It would, however, not be advisable to be complacent about the matter, for there are imperfections in the organizations of our magistrates' courts and the conditions which have caused an increase in crime elsewhere no doubt exist here," he said.

Problem of juvenile delinquency and of crime among youths should not be divorced from each other. Juvenile delinquency results in adult crime and the cost to the taxpayers runs into millions. We can well afford to give very special attention to the prevention of such crime, for any slight expense incurred will pay large dividends in cash alone.

REFORMATION

Juvenile courts should be courts of prevention and reformation rather than courts of retribution and punishment, the magistrate said. It was found that in most places there was no real program of probation. Magistrates, it was found, were generally loath to commit to institutions, but very often, owing to the lack of other remedy, they felt there was no alternative.

"We were much impressed with the attitude of the police toward the problem of delinquency," said the report. "They were universally anxious to be helpful, not only that, but they were exceptionally understanding. Many of the police officers, particularly younger men, are now doing what is really probation work."

Many juvenile court judges, magistrates and officers, Magistrate Wood found, have a very nebulous idea as to what probation means—that it is a very different thing from suspended sentence.

"It is essential that all magistrates, judges and probation officers should be given some instruction and should receive literature which will be helpful to them," the magistrate's report said.

Magistrate Wood recommended that the probation system be extended as far as possible to all young offenders; that if committed to Oakalla young offenders should, as far as possible, be segregated from hardened criminals; regional conferences of magistrates and juvenile court judges.

"but, my dear, did you notice her CHESTERFIELD?"

I used to think her living-room looked rather dull and "frumpy," but that gorgeous new Chesterfield certainly did things to THAT room. Talk about "distinguished!" I never remember seeing another in Victoria like it. It was finished in the most scrumptious silk brocade. She said she got it at Fletchers and I'm just going to "talk turkey" to John and see if I can't get one something like it. Yes, she said

YOU'D NEVER BELIEVE SHE IS 48 . . .

She's one of the prettiest, happiest-spirited women you ever saw. At the time when most women think life is passing them by—she's right in the midst of things—always ready to go places and do things. . . . As popular with the men as girls half her age. To look at her you would never believe she was a day over 25.

How does she do it? She gives the credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. . . . for well she knows how important it is to have plenty of rich, red blood flowing through years when so many women are "pulled down" in health by bodily changes.

If you feel "always tired," if you look pale and dragged out, if you are suffering from a feeling of nervous exhaustion, are jittery and irritable, you may be paying the price of poor blood make-up. Don't wait—start Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They contain an easily assimilable form of iron—fortified with a generous amount of Vitamin B—and are wonderfully effective in helping to build the rich, red blood so necessary to vigor and energy. Winnipeg (CP)—Continued demand for wheat from shippers and exporters boosted wheat futures to new seasonal highs again today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. The October future climbed to $1.16, December $1.14½, and May $1.14½. Substantial business in cash and export wheat was reported.

Wheat values were the best on the exchange since the May future went off the board in 1938. Cash wheat trade was good, with nearly 2,000,000 bushels of the three top grades changing hands. Exporters and shippers were the main buyers.

Country marketings yesterday amounted to 1,091,000 bushels compared with 923,000 bushels last year.
